

Sharing the Harvest

Take a bite out of hunger

For $10 you get a 10 lb. bag of apples and empower women in agriculture and community development in West Pokot, Kenya.

Give "Seed Money," which helps plant new projects like Sharing the Harvest to multiply the impact.

100% of sales go to Jitokeze, a Covenant World Relief supported project, to take a bite out of hunger by empowering women.

In West Pokot County, Kenya, the young women participating in Jitokeze, a ministry that empowers women in agriculture and community development have been busy making 20,000 masks because of the support of Covenant World Relief. This is not only helping in their tailoring skills, but impacting their community. As a leader from Jitokeze recently wrote, "Let us do our part to fight this oppressive virus, not forgetting those that are at a greater vulnerability among us."

This is but one story that shows how Jitokeze is impacting this corner of Kenya by empowering women in agriculture and community development. Your purchase of apples helps to take a bite out of hunger.

SHARING THE HARVEST is a mission venture of the churches of the Pacific Northwest Conference (ECC), facilitated by Wiley Heights Covenant Church in support of projects through Covenant World Relief and Growing Hope Globally. We work to demonstrate God's love through sharing the harvest.
